

Tie in Homecoming With Graduation

That first post-war homecoming—waited for and talked about by St. Joe men from Bangor to Burma, and Hull to Honshu—will take place in connection with Commencement, June 1-2.

Special guests during the two-day reunion will be the living members of the class of 1896: Msgr. John F. Cogan, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Hamilton, O.; Msgr. Thomas M. Conroy, rector of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Rev. Christian Daniel, C.P.P.S., pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Star City, Ind.; Rev. Nicholas H. Greiwe, C.P.P.S., pastor of Mary Help of Christians Church, Fort Recovery, O.; Rev. Bartholomew Besinger, C.P.P.S., chaplain, St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, Kenosha, Wis., and Mr. James Betsner, Peru, Ind.

There will be room for 200 alumni. Those planning to attend should write the Rev. S. H. Ley, C.P.P.S., for reservations. There will be a registration fee of five dollars this year.

Accommodations will not be guaranteed unless the alumnus has written in for a reservation.

Rev. Dr. A. B. Paluszak, '15

Observes 25th Anniversary

In the older days they called him Prefect of Discipline. Nowadays the job bears the title of Dean of Men. But even the students put on the carpet by the Rev. Dr. A. B. Paluszak, '15, in the earlier days will rejoice with him May 1, when he celebrates the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

The night preceding, Prof. Turner and Father Lawrence Heiman, '34-'38, will present a combined band and glee club musicale, in honor of the jubilarian. The next morning the priest-professor will sing a Solemn High Mass at which the Most Rev. John G. Bennett, D.D., Bishop of Lafayette and Father Paluszak's former pastor in Garret, Ind., will preside.

A sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Victor Wagner, C.P.P.S., 11, pastor of Holy Trinity Church, Bryant, Ind. Later there will be festive banquet.

His 25 years have been spent in parish work, teaching at St. Charles Seminary, and teaching at St. Joseph's. He first joined the faculty in 1925. Students in 1931 will remember when he left to study at Catholic U., Washington, D. C. His current Collegeville tour began in 1935, when he returned with a Ph.D. degree. Twelve in Class

May 5 is the exact date of Father Paluszak's ordination. There were twelve members of his class—Fathers Anthony Meyer, Edwin Kaiser, Joseph Maichler, Martin Rosengartner, Aloysius Cook, Eugene Omlor, John Zeller, John Kostik, Charles Le Jeune, Ferdinand Hoorman, and Isadore Oberhauser.

Father Le Jeune died May 27, 1927, in a sanitarium in Feldkirch, Austria, where he had gone while a student in Rome when his health broke down. Father Hoorman died in Milwaukee, Wis., March 31, 1932. In 1929 Father Oberhauser entered the Congregation of the Passion.

Major Gilbert Eßer, U. S. Army chaplain, has returned to the faculty after five years of active military service. His assignments included: Post chaplain, Fort Devens, Mass.; regimental chaplain, 314th Inf. Regt., 79th Div.; assistant division chaplain, 79th Inf. Div., and depot chaplain for five replacement depots in England, France, and Belgium. The associate professor of Latin and Greek has four service ribbons—American Defense, European Theater with one bronze campaign star, American Theater, and Victory Ribbon for World War II.

College Will Confer Honorary Degrees upon Bishop-Alumni

St. Joseph's will confer the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on three bishops May 8, according to an announcement by the Very Rev. Dr. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., president.

The prelates, all alumni, are the Most Revs. William R. Arnold, D.D., titular bishop of Phocaea and delegate of the Military Ordinary in New York; John G. Bennett, D.D., bishop of the diocese of Lafayette; and Henry J. Grimmelsman, D.D., bishop of the diocese of Evansville.

Bishop Arnold, a graduate of the class of '02, was chief of chaplains in the U. S. Army and the first priest in the nation's history to attain the rank of Major General. He retired from the Army in October, 1945, after 32 years of service. The same month, he was consecrated bishop in St. Patrick's Cathedral by the Most Rev. Francis J. Spellman, archbishop of New York.

Bishop Bennett, '09, is a former pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Garret, Ind. He was consecrated bishop of the newly established diocese of Lafayette January 10, 1945.

Bishop Grimmelsman, '09, is a former rector of Josephinum College, Worthington, O. After his consecration December 21, 1944, he became bishop of the newly founded diocese of Evansville.

In the college chapel at 10:30 a. m., Bishop Arnold will be celebrant at the Academic Pontifical High Mass. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Anthony B. Paluszak. A banquet will be held at 1 p. m. in the college dining hall.

Shields Marries

Wedding bells pealed Feb. 20 for Marine first lieutenant Bob Shields, '44, and Miss Marie Oliver, in Los Angeles, Cal. The couple is now at home at 7812 South Ashland Ave., Chicago.

Cosgrove Signs Puma Contract

Hot-stove leaguers among the alumni can give the coals another poke. Art Cosgrove, for the past six years basketball coach at Reitz Memorial high school, Evansville, Ind., has signed a three-year basketball contract with the Pumas.

Dick Scharf, '38, college backfield and freshman coach before the war, and head academy coach during the three-year sports lay-off, will be head football coach.

At Butler, Cosgrove captained the basketball squad for his last two years, graduating in 1937. He coached at Cathedral and Sacred Heart high schools, Indianapolis, before going to Evansville. His Reitz squad won 17 out of 23 games this year. His all-time basketball coaching record is 63 wins against 15 losses.

Scharf will begin spring football practice April 29.

Has Book Proofs

The forthcoming book, A Century of the Catholic Essay, by the Rev. Raphael H. Gross, '27-'32, will be published by J. B. Lippincott Co. this year. The author, in between English classes and perfecting in Seifert Hall, has read almost half of the proofs to date.

Chem Column

By Father Al Wuest

You will all recognize the adjoining picture as one of the Analytical Chemistry Laboratory, in which there is room for twenty students each in Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis. Bob Farrell and Bill Browning posed for the snapshot during our last Science Exhibit Day.

The men are using Quantitative Analysis equipment. On the desks in the foreground is shown a full set of "Quan" necessities. On the desk in the background you see equipment used in the Semi-Micro Qualitative Analysis course. The shelf pictured carries the various reagents and test solutions. Before next fall our new fluorescent lighting fixtures should be installed.

We have made some changes in the Analytical Chemistry courses. Semi-Micro Qual is now given in the second semester of the freshman year. During the six lab-hours a week tests are run on the common cations and anions. A sufficient number of unknowns is analyzed to make students familiar with the problems of Qualitative Analysis.

Quantitative Analysis now requires two semesters. This makes it possible in the second semester to teach the use of Quan instruments, so important in industry. We now have the equipment for colorimetric analysis, using our photo-electric colorimeter. With the pH meter we are able to run electrometric titrations—both the acid-base titrations and the oxidation-reduction titrations.

The equipment for electrodeposition analysis is ordered. A Slomin Analyzer is one of a number of these instruments scheduled to be in the labs soon.

Doctor Al Ballard was among last month's visitors. Now finished with his internship at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, Ky., he expects to enter the army medical corps.

George Deininger, still in the Navy, has written during the past month. Of all the other schools he has attended since entering the Navy, he is convinced that St. Joe is best. One reason, George says, is because St. Joe stresses the study of Religion, Philosophy, and English, making these subjects required for all students.

Farrell and Browning solve a mystery on Science Day.

Bill Browning tells me he has been married for some years, and now is the father of his little daughter, Diane Catherine. Congratulations, Bill! A little late, but sincere.

Al Schraff is still in the Navy as a communications officer. He is also married and we are looking forward to a visit from the two of them. All the old chem majors are especially welcomed in the Chemistry department, you know.

Some of you still have not written. If our tabulations of your questionnaire information are to be complete, we need a reply from every one of you. Give the others, the school, and myself a break. Of course, suggestions from any of you will be closely considered.

ED BANDJOUGH, '42

P. O. Box 176
Wewahitchka, Fla.

It was a long process which led up to my eventually becoming "Joe Civilian" again. I sailed out of Saipan harbor last Dec. 21, spending Christmas, two Dec. 26's and New Year's aboard ship.

We hit Frisco on 4 January, the same old damp, cold, clammy, foggy Frisco. But that didn't dispel the joy. Masontown certainly looked good.

Here are some items of interest. Last November Jim Lavelle hopped a plane from Guam to Saipan for a brief visit. He has tendered his application for regular Navy. By now he should be decommissioning his ship on the west coast.

A grandiloquent missive from Runnion reveals that he is at Great Lakes lecturing to outgoing officers on their rights and benefits. Al Schraff is also there with Runnion.

The plan is this: To enter the University of Florida law school in September, all going well.

Ed Bandjough.

JOHN J. WOLFORD, '38-'42

Namur, Belgium
March 13, '46

With the enclosed money order please pay my alumni dues, the subscription price for Stuff and CONTACT, and place the remainder in the Student Loan Fund. The payment wouldn't be so late except that two days ago I received my first pay in six months, having been on the go through France, Switzerland, Luxembourg, and Belgium.

If all continues peacefully I shall remain here in Belgium until late June, and then head for home. If the U.N.O. works, then my days as a soldier are numbered. Please place my name over my old door in Seifert Hall for next September.

John L. Wolford.

C. B. LEVANDOWSKI, '43

3338 W. Hutchinson St.
Chicago 18, Ill.

Back home in Chicago after two years and eight months in the Navy. I was discharged at Great Lakes March 25. Warm spring weather here is helping me get acclimated after so long in Florida. Regards to all the boys in the athletic department.

Chuck Levandowski.

JACK STENGER, '40-'42

Dental Dispensary
N. A. S., Deland, Fla.

I graduated from the Indiana U. school of dentistry last fall and am now filling and pulling teeth for the Navy. The work is good and I am satisfied with the Navy.

Here is another "small item." In April, 1944, I was married to Miss Melvena Kelch. We were blessed with a son in May, 1945. He has been tagged John M., Jr. My wife was my Organic Chem lab instructor at Butler U. in 1942.

Are Pat Moran, or Kelley, or Gaier, Cavey or Scollard, or any more of the old boys back? Would sure love to get back for a few days. Well, here comes the next patient!

Lt. (jg) J. M. Stenger.

ROBERT D. GREENE, '39-'42

242 Blue Ridge Drive
Indianapolis, Ind.

I've been a civilian since Feb. 24. In my three and a half years in the army I believe I have seen every army camp west of the Mississippi, but none east.

In May of 1945 I had my first ocean trip, ending up at Manila, and later on Luzon. Last February I started back home.

Every afternoon finds me in class at Butler U., only four blocks from home. Hope to be up your way this summer.

Robert D. Greene.

ED ANCEL, '41

1117 No. Nicholson St.
Joliet, Illinois

My discharge is dated March 3. I expect to go into business before very long. Meanwhile, here are three dollars for CONTACT, Stuff, and alumni dues.

Are any other of the old '41 grads still single? I am still, but probably not after this summer.

My regards to Fathers Ley, Nieset, Gordon, and Hehn. Keep sending news about the other fellows.

Ed Ancel.

ED SIEFER, '32-'33

Squadron E, Dept. 27
Sheppard Field, Texas

It's been a long, long time since the good old days at St. Joe. Please continue to send CONTACT to my home address. My wife forwards it to me in her letters. Best wishes to all.

Ed Siefer.

R. T. REILLY, '42-'43

The war is over, the danger is lessened, but the hunger of hearts for familiar news and faces goes on. CONTACT, sent out monthly from home, helps considerably.

I expect to be in the States in May, and out of the Navy in June. Tell Father Nieset we have a date in July.

R. T. Reilly.

Parade Back "Home" Continues

FR. EDWARD CHAREK, '22-'28

From winning the 1928 Conroy Oratory medal to caring for Italian and German prisoners is the wide range of Father Ed Charek's activities. He appeared on the campus, March 27.

Last September Father Charek, an army first lieutenant, embarked on the naval hospital ship Thistle, for South America, Pearl Harbor, Manila, Leyte, and back to Long Beach Dec. 20. He reported to Camp Atterbury expecting new orders out of the country.

OWEN THUERK, '41

Owen (Red) Thuerk spent most of his military service as an army physical education instructor in California and Oregon. His teams took on all comers in the Fourth Air Force league.

Out of the army, the former Puma end is trying to decide between playing professional football or coaching in a high school. He was on campus March 27.

JOE KEANE, '38-'41

One of the members of the 34th Division combat engineers who toiled for thirty-eight months through Ireland, England, Scotland, France and Germany, was Joe Keane. Joe went in on August 7, 1941. He came out with the Bronze Star. Since then he has been working as a Physical Ed instructor in Chicago, and has been attending classes at George Williams and DePaul.

CHESTER SKRABACZ, '41-'44

Chester is getting back into the academic swing through classes at St. Louis U. He dashed into Jasper County March 22, and announced that he would be back under Father Nieset's geological wing next September.

With the 24th Infantry Division, he spent ten months out of country. He was wounded by bullets in the face May 19, 1945, on Mindanao. Now he is better than ever, ready to take his old place in the Puma backfield if necessary.

JOHN DEEGAN, '45

With a year in the Navy behind him, Johnny "shipped over" into the regulars for a two-year hitch. Attached to the Naval Radio Station, San Francisco, he visited St. Joseph's March 19, on the way to a hometown leave in Wheeling, W. Va.

DON CLARK, '42

One of the spectators at the final academy football scrimmage April 10 was Don Clark, recently released after service as an army military policeman. The former eleven-letter athlete from Kankakee expects to step into a coaching role during the summer.

VASCO LUCHI, '40-'43

Luchi's naval career shifted into high gear in January, 1944, when he was commissioned ensign at the Notre Dame middy school. He went to Evansville, Ind., and went aboard Landing Ship Tank No. 582, which he called home for the next sixteen months.

The No. 582 figured in the invasions of Luzon, Lingayen Gulf, and Okinawa. It was a sad day in January, 1946, when the faithful No. 582 was decommissioned and turned over to the Japanese navy.

Vas hit the States last St. Patrick's day. Still interested in medicine, he visited the campus March 30 and expects to resume his studies possibly with the summer session.

FR. KILIAN DREILING, '25-'30

He returned to the campus in the uniform of a captain in the army chaplain's corps. Father Kilian Dreiling, formerly with the 92nd Evacuation Hospital, wears battle stars for the invasions of Hollandia, Biak, and the Philippines.

Collegeville welcomed him Mar. 18, while he was on leave en route to the general army hospital at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

FR. HAROLD ROTH, '31-'35

Father Roth, another of the returning chaplain-alumni, is a veteran of service with the 14th antiaircraft command in New Guinea and the Philippines. He came back to the campus March 19.

Four invasions—Wake, Leyte, Mindoro, Zamboanga—and three battle stars and a bronze arrowhead show that Father Roth kept busy during the war. Now on leave, he will report to Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

FR. ALVIN JASINSKI, '25-'31

Father Alvin came to Collegeville March 28, and told a few of the things that happened after September, 1942, when he entered the army chaplain's corps.

With the 85th (Custer) Infantry Division, he spent eighteen months in North Africa and Italy. Out of the army last December, he is now assistant pastor at St. Mary's parish, Crown Point, Ind.

JIM MEAGHER, '36-'40

On the last day in February Jim Meagher shed his naval lieutenant (jg) uniform, after considerable duty in the South Pacific invasions on an A.K.A. transport. The old familiar campus looked good to him, March 12.

Homeward bound in January, he saw John Dunn and Bob Conley in San Francisco. He was married July 7, 1945. He plans to return to college for the study of pharmacy.

DON VOGT, '40-'42

Don Vogt, whose college work was interrupted by military service, will return to the campus next September. His wife, the former Ellen Burr of Rensselaer, was with him when he visited the office of the Registrar, April 8, to fill out an application form.

Vogt, assigned to the wire and message center of a Battalion Headquarters Company, was with the 100th Division when it fought through France and Germany. After the cessation of hostilities, he was given a military government assignment in Stuttgart.

JOHN HINDERS, '42-'43

Just as the entire campus was migrating en masse for Easter vacation, Sgt. John Hinders reversed the procedure, April 17. John is attached to the army quartermaster corps at the service force training center, Camp Lee, Va. He entered service last fall from Celina, Ohio, his home, and sees at least another year in uniform.

TOM FAGAN, '42

Prospects of entering service in July were told here April 6 by Doctor Tom Fagan, 302 Davis Ave., Terre Haute, Ind.

Tom got his M.D. from St. Louis University last June. He has been interning at St. Anthony's Hospital, Terre Haute.

DON KREMP, '36-'43

After thirteen months overseas with the army engineers. Don Kremp came back to the campus April 17, three days after his return to sport sox and a tweed suit. He had gone through France and Belgium. Headquarters for the time being will be at home, 526 North Oxford St., Indianapolis.

FRED BERGHOFF, '41-'43

April 6 was a big day for returning war vets on the campus. Fred Berghoff, 1314 Morton St., Fort Wayne, helped swell the parade.

If you knew anything about the B-24's of the 38th bombing squadron of the 30th bomb group of the seventh air force, then you must have known Fred, who was an aerial gunner. His planes operated considerably out of Oahu. He was overseas eleven months.

He didn't leave Collegeville without re-enrolling for the fall semester in business administration.

GENE SHAW, '41-'43

You can count on at least one member of the 320th squadron in the 90th bomb group being back in Collegeville next fall finishing his pre-med studies. It is Gene Shaw, now of 710 St. John St., Dyersburg, Tenn., who visited the registrar April 6.

Shaw spent ten months overseas as a tail gunner in a Mindoro-based B-24. He left school in July, 1943, a junior.

FRED SIEBEN, '42-'43

Best remembered in the war for Fred Sieben will be the fifteen months he spent in Europe with the 815th antiaircraft artillery. Half of the time he was in close contact with Chuck Hodges in Belgium.

Released March 17, Fred will continue his Accounting courses here in September. Meanwhile, 1470 Larabee St., Chicago 10, Ill., will be where he hangs his hat until then. He was here April 1.

BILL KIEP, '42-'43

Both the European and Pacific theaters were covered by Bill Kiep, who joined the 1783rd engineers company. Now newly released, he looked over the campus April 6.

BALLARD AND GALVIN

When Dr. Aloysius J. Ballard, '42, was an intern at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, Ky., he and Ray Galvin, '43, used to meet quite frequently and talk about the day they would visit the campus. They planned the visit for May or June, but when Dr. Ballard received notification of his impending induction into the Army, the two Kentuckians advanced the date to April 1.

Galvin, who will long be remembered by his classmates as The Colonel, is district agent for Aetna Life Insurance Company. He also assists his mother in the operation of the Drake Hotel in Lexington. Ray's father was president of the Drake at the time of his death in August, 1945.

BOB MEINERS, '39-'43

Bob Meiners, 14 South Butler Ave., Indianapolis, arrived for a brief visit March 28. He had just been released from the army air corps for whom he served as an aerial gunner and radioman.

He plans to work in Indianapolis until September, then get into college.

Coming Back?

Spring beauty covers the campus like never before. But when you come back for a visit, leave the fresh air and scenery long enough to visit CONTACT, have your address checked, and shoot a little breeze.

Prom, Play, Sports News-- Spring Brings Happy Topics

Spring found the campus swinging back to pleasant pre-war activities. A prom, a C. L. S. play, and the announcement of a football schedule marked a definite return to the gay side of college life.

Alumni are invited to attend the Spring Prom Saturday night, May 4. The affair will be semi-formal this year. Dancing will be from nine till midnight to the music of Wally Hermes and his "Esquires."

The C. L. S. was true to its 53-year tradition of dramatic excellence when it presented George M. Cohan's The Tavern. The first post-war production, under direction of the Rev. Lawrence F. Heiman, C.P.P.S., '34-'38, gave promise that there will be many pleasant evenings of make-believe in the college theater through the years to come. Prof. Paul Tonner directing the band between acts served as a definite link with the past for every alumnus in the audience.

mick's Creek State Park, near Spencer, Ind. He will speak May 2 before the Blatchley Nature Study Club at Noblesville, Ind. The young priest, assistant professor of biology at St. Joseph's, has as his hobby bird banding and bird portraiture. During the past five years he has banded more than 8,500 birds representing 75 species, all found in the bird sanctuaries located on the campus.

Applications from prospective students are pouring in at such a rate that it will soon be necessary to start a waiting list, according to the Rev. C. G. Kern, C.P.P.S., '26-'31, registrar.

The Band Instrument Scholarship audition will be held at St. Joseph's May 25 and June 8. High school graduates who give evidence of outstanding ability on the band instrument of their choice will be awarded a full music scholarship of $100 which will be applied to the payment of tuition costs in the School of Arts and Sciences. The initial award is for the freshman year only but may be renewed upon the recommendation of the head of the music department. A limited number of partial scholarships ($25 to $50) will be available for applicants with previous band experience, who do not qualify for the full scholarships.

Corrals Alumni In Louisville

Bob Conley, '41, back in Rensselaer from two years of L.S.T. duty in the Pacific, spent part of his terminal leave rounding up Louisville alumni.

Charles (Red) Simms, '41, is out of the army, selling sporting goods for the St. Matthew's (Ky.) Inn, and building a home. He and Larry Bloemer, '28-'30, want to drum up post-war spirit among Louisville-St. Joe men.

Out of the Marine Corps since November, Paul Hayden, '37-'38, is now superintendent of a department at National Life and Accident Insurance Co. Paul was a Master Tech Sergeant with Marine fighting squadron No. 213, 29 months out of the country. He was married June 4, 1942, to Miss Mary Margaret Higgins, in Jacksonville, Fla.

Dick Cody, '41, was a B-24 navigator in the European theater. He's now back with Pauline and their children, Barbara and Richard. Also back at Retail Credit Association.

Introducing Bob Gutting, '40, and his bride, the former Miss Marie Loheide, of Cincinnati. They were married Jan. 26 by the Rev. J. A. Otte, C.P.P.S., '27-'32, in Cincinnati.

More to Announcing Than Simple Talk

Bill Gay, '42, can tell you there is more to being a radio announcer than simply speaking into the microphone. But let's go back to the beginning.

Gay will always remember the afternoon of Feb. 12, 1946, at 1430 (army time). For then he said goodbye to his rescue boats at Selfridge Field, Michigan, and headed back to 2135 Volney Road, Youngstown, Ohio, a man of freedom.

But radio announcing had always stuck in his craw. If Michigan alumni have tuned in station WEXL lately they probably heard Gay's voice coming into their receivers from the Royal Oak transmitter.

Bill has also been operating the turntables for recordings and electrical transcriptions, ad-libbing on the spur of an unfilled moment, editing and presenting news, and making up programs.

Park Falls Report

St. Anthony of Padua parish, Park Falls, Wis., is still talking about its parochial basketball team, coached by the Rev. Howard Lesch, '35-'39, assistant pastor. His cagers, in their first year of organized play, won a county championship.

BULLETIN

The Catholic Rural Life Service will sponsor a "School for Rural Living," for farm laymen and their pastors, on the campus Aug. 26-27-28. The announcement was made by the Rev. Harold Diller, C.P.P.S., '22-'28.

Address Poses Cure For Paint Industry

When a painting contractor tells his suppliers and manufacturers what's wrong with their business, it's news. An address by Charles E. Quirk, '21-'23, president of the Painting and Decorating Contractors Association of Chicago, Ill., offers cure-alls which have since been distributed throughout the industry.

Miller City Joe Is a Busy Man

Cracker-barrel philosophers around Miller City, O., are singing the praises of Joe Nienberg, '31-'35, whose high school basketball squad won a league, a county, and a district tournament trophy.

Joe also teaches five high school subjects and does some private tutoring. When he's not busy making runs with the local fire-fighting unit—or teaching, or tutoring—he keeps up his 175 bowling average.

Landscaping Begins, Stone Gate Goes

Guardian of Collegeville's entrance for 15 years, the great gray stone gate is gone. Brother Joe's pneumatic drill hammered away for a week, and the rocks were hauled away to a fill.

It was a hazard to drivers. The removal of the gate is the first step toward a long-range landscaping program drawn up by college authorities and R. B. Hull, professor at Purdue University and member of the Indiana Landscape Planning Commission.

A memorial concert in honor of the Rev. Dr. Paul Speckbaugh was presented in the college theatre by concert pianist Richard Carpenter. The head of the Department of English who died in an accident Oct. 8, 1944 and Mr. Carpenter long saw eye-to-eye on culture, art and music.

The Indiana Audubon Society will hear the Rev. John Baechle, '25-'30, for the third consecutive year at its annual meeting which is to be held May 3 at McCor-
